IMUN-STEM
SUMMER PROGRAM
July 19 - August 1, 2020
After a few months of uncertainty resulting from the COVID-19, we are thrilled to announce that the 2020 International Model United Nations (IMUN) - Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) Summer Program will take place online via zoom. Our first virtual session in the 14 years existence of the program and registration has now opened. The last few years, we hosted hundreds of delegates from over 75 countries in Frederick, Maryland. That is a testament to the unique and inspiring experience at the Program. This year, we are pleased to be featuring top notch online speakers and trainings that will make up for the absence of the one on one program we are used to. This year’s session will focus on the world pandemic without ignoring the United Nations 2030 Agenda on Sustainable Development.

The past thirteen years have seen our summer program become a one-of-a-kind, intellectually stimulating, academically enriching, and networking conference. Held in the Washington, D.C. metro area, the program brings together the best and the brightest young minds from around the globe. Over the course of two weeks, our participants are exposed to other cultures, societies, and perspectives which help them shape their own views. Students undertake workshops and lectures on global inequality, cultural diversity, conflict mediation, international diplomatic exchange, and participate in educational outings in Washington D.C. and New York City. The focus of the program is to spread the mission of peace, build life-long relationships, develop strategic connections, and produce international leaders. We will sure return to the usual program in 2021.

YOUTH EMPOWERMENT
AND GLOBAL COMPETENCY
Students will understand the meaning of global citizenship and recognize key differences (and similarities) between global citizenship and national citizenship. Issues and challenges faced by individuals and societies in a globalized, interdependent world that might help us meet these challenges will be questioned. Participants will recognize transformation and participation as a key aim of citizenship, and reflect on what kinds of knowledge, skills and values are necessary.

“We are calling for a fundamental shift—to recognize peace and good governance as core elements of well-being, not an optional extra.”
